

Oh hey there agency friend 🙌

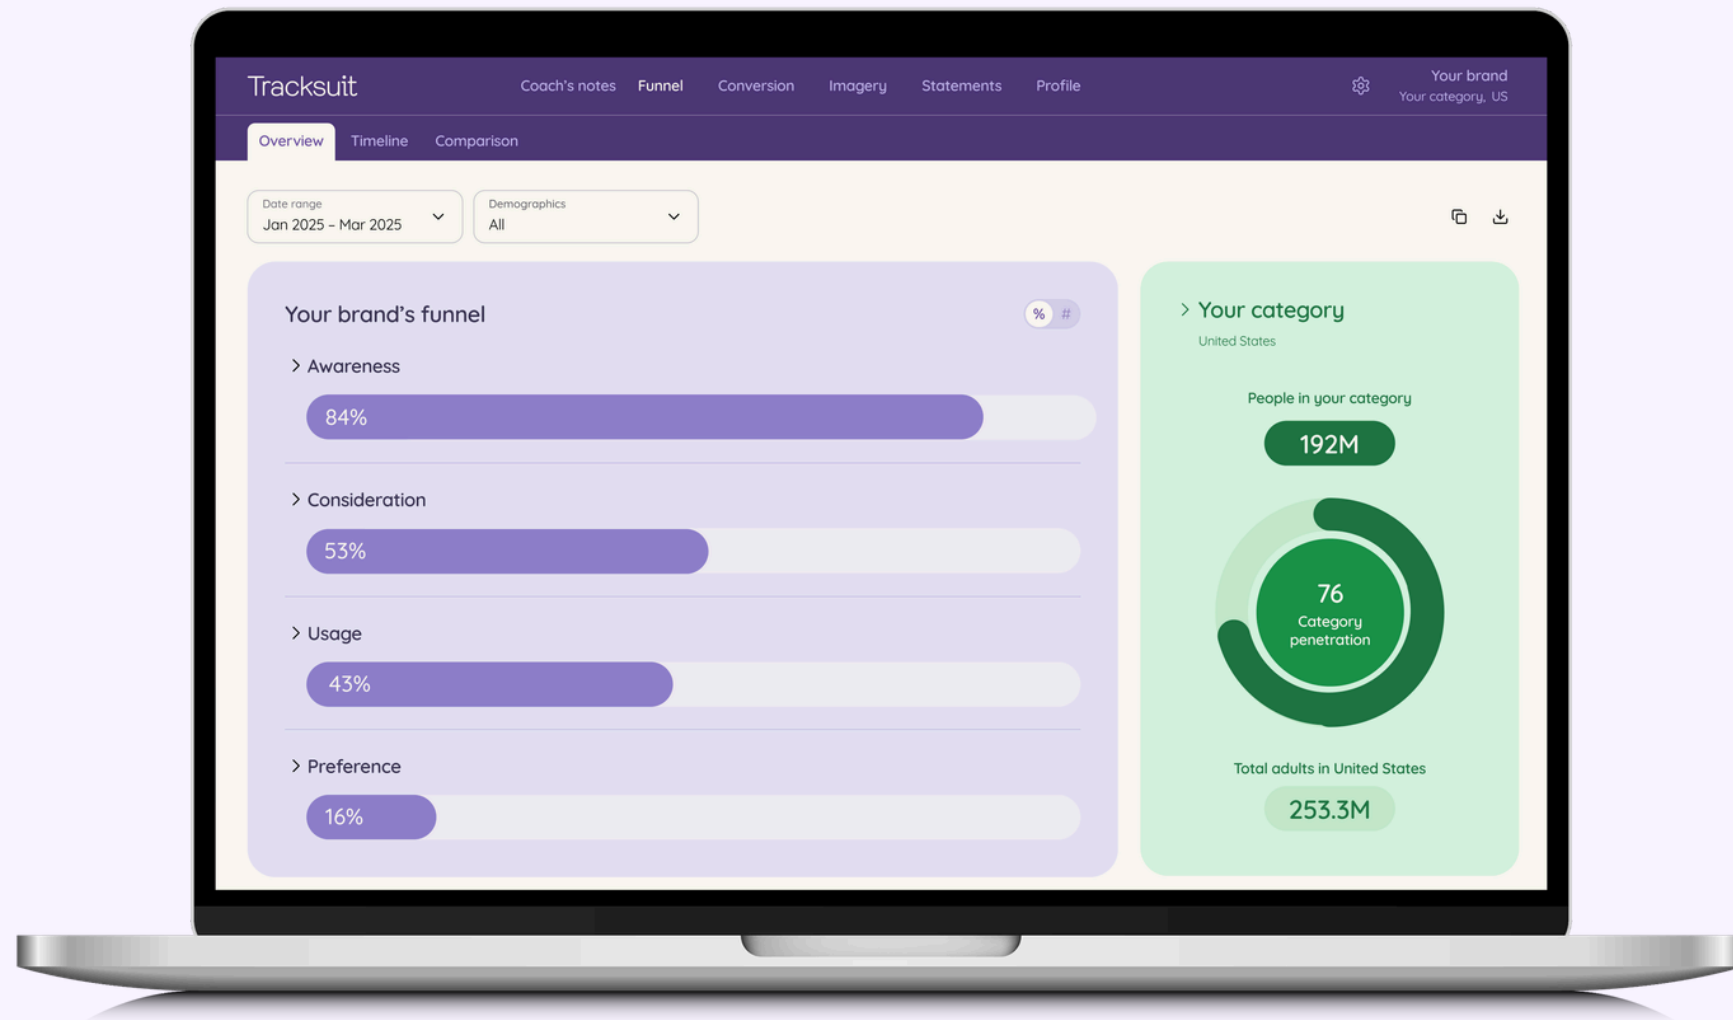

We're Tracksuit.

Beautiful, radically affordable, always-on brand tracking.

We've reimagined brand tracking for today's brands and their agencies.

Easily track awareness, consideration, preference and brand associations, and compare results against competitors over time. The result: you can measure, understand and communicate the value of brand.

Build brand and measure your clients' performance over time.

We survey real people, continuously, to give you the building blocks of client strategy:

- Core marketing funnel metrics
- Prompted & Unprompted Brand Perceptions
- Competitor and Category Benchmarking

The old world of brand-tracking

At a point in time
Once or twice a year research that didn't truly reflect what is happening in the market.

Death by numbers
Convolutd 100-page reports that were out of date by the time you received them, then read once and forgotten about.

Expensive
Prohibitively expensive and out of reach for smaller brands.

Designed for one end user
Usually a static report or single user subscription that limits sharability and gatekeeps knowledge

Tracksuit

Always-on
We automated the collection and ingestion of data to deliver an always-on tracker.

Dashboard first
We said goodbye to stale, static PDF reports and build a beautiful, simple dashboard.

Affordable
Automation and efficiencies allow us to lower the price dramatically and open up enterprise-tracking to smaller brands.

Designed for collaboration
One subscription, unlimited logins. We advocate for shared usage and the democratisation of data

How we partner with agencies

(hello commission 🙌)

Intel for pitching, planning and awards

Get bespoke brand and category intel reports that elevate your pitch work. We'll arm you with insights into your prospective client's brand health, their category dynamics, and how they stack up against competitors - giving your strategy and creative the edge from day one.

Helping you position the value of brand tracking to clients

We make it easy to show your clients the value of always-on brand measurement. Whether you're pitching brand building, testing new creative, or defending budgets - Tracksuit proves the impact over time.

Plus: You earn a 10% commission on every client you refer.

Co-marketing and community

We spotlight agency partners through our channels – from case studies and webinars to event panels and POV pieces. We help you get credit for great work, connect with like-minded strategists, and win more attention in the brand + agency ecosystem.

Dedicated Partner Manager

You'll have a go-to Tracksuit expert embedded in your corner - someone who knows agency workflows, can help shape smart brand tracking setups for clients, and is always on-hand to support new biz, onboarding, or reporting.
